

The Wolf Howl

THE GRADUATION ISSUE

Volume 88 | Issue 6
May 2024

Letter from the Editor

By Kate Rogers, Editor In Chief

When you start high school, everyone tells you to live in the moment, take it all in, and make the most of everything that happens. I wish that I had listened when they told me I would miss this. As my time here comes to a close, I'm not looking back at the tests I failed or the classes I struggled in. I'm remembering the friends I made, the inside jokes, the victories, and the sense of belonging that I felt at Chandler.

For the past three years, I've been a part of the newspaper. As I write my final piece as Editor-in-chief, I look back at my sophomore self, walking into the newsroom for the first time as a reporter and how unaware I was about the effect that this class would have on my life. It's hard for me to describe how much the Wolf Howl means to me, and saying goodbye to it now is one of the most difficult things I've ever had to do. Even though many of you don't even know we have a newspaper, watching as people read and reacted to each issue and article gave me the most incredible sense of pride for the work that I've done. When I was a freshman, I never would have imagined that in a million years I would have the ability to manage a club like this. When I got the job as editor-in-chief, I was so nervous because so much was changing and I wasn't sure what I was going to do or how I was going to lead. But through lots of trial and error, I figured it out. Being a part of the newspaper has given me the opportunity to find my voice as both a writer and a person and without it I would likely not be the person I am today.

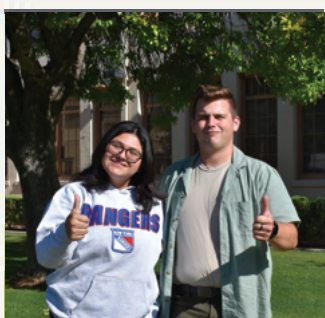

While I'll miss the work and the stress that comes with it, I'll miss the people the most. For the last three years, the people in the newspaper have been some of my closest friends and colleagues. My past editors who taught me so much about what it means to be a writer, and my current teammates who have made this year the best one yet. I'm going to miss arguing about story ideas and rushing to finish a last minute layout, and most of all I'm going to miss the classes we spent laughing instead of working.

Now, as I look towards the future, I have my time in the Wolf Howl to thank for showing me that this is what I love to do and teaching me the skills I need to be successful. The Wolf Howl has allowed me to be a part of almost everything that's happened at Chandler, and to become a part of its history. For the rest of my life, I'll look at the time I spent at Chandler and in the newspaper as some of the best and most rewarding times of my life.

This issue is meant to be a physical reminder of the time we spent together and of our high school experience. Each member of the class of 2024 was considered and included in any way we could. Look for your names and your friends' pictures, use the bucket list to plan fun summer trips, and keep it somewhere to look back on in the future.

Thank you to everyone who ever read the paper and thank you to every single member of the senior class, I couldn't be more grateful to have spent and finished high school with you. Thank you to my teachers for helping me learn how to be the best writer and always giving me the opportunity to struggle. And most of all thank you to Chandler High, for being my second home and the best place to spend the last four years I could have asked for.

Senior Spotlights

Jalia Reed

Jalia Reed, a senior with a 4.2 GPA, serves as an officer of the Chandler FFA chapter. As a member of the FFA, Reed has been able to show livestock for three years, earning thousands of dollars for selling her pigs at county fairs. Jalia also hopes to be elected as an Arizona FFA State officer for the 2024-2025 term before beginning an agricultural business major at the University of Arizona.

Ben Kovak

An accomplished senior, Ben is involved in NHS, Science club, Book club, Cross country, and Track and field. With a 4.75 GPA, Ben's dedication to academics shines through. His work ethic goes beyond just school, with his commitment to the track and cross country team making him one of the most improved and best athletes on the team. Ben will be attending Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, majoring in mechanical engineering, and has committed to their cross country and track teams as well. He hopes to one day be a rocket systems engineer.

Sofia Lindsey

Sofia Lindsey is a talented senior involved in many different aspects of high school life. She's the President of the Choir program; a member of NHS and the International Thespian Society; she also earned the distinction of International Thespian. Graduating with a 3.8 GPA, Sofia plans on attending Colorado State University with a major in Psychology and a minor in Statistics, followed by medical school.

Charlie Hall

Charlie Hall is an extremely talented senior at Chandler High, holding both a membership in the International Thespian Society and a 3.7 GPA. Transferring here at the beginning of this year, he made a splash, starring in Chandler's Footloose production. His love for musical theater won't end in high school, as Charlie is planning on attending Pace University in New York City with a major in Musical Theater. With a goal of "improving the state of the world," his lofty ambitions are perfectly possible thanks to his talent and effort.

Jackson Keeney

Jackson Keeney is a motivated and involved senior with a 4.3 weighted GPA. A varsity volleyball player for his junior and senior years and a varsity member of the Chandler Golf team for freshman through junior year, his ability to juggle athletics and academics is unmatched. Once Jackson graduates from Chandler High School, he plans to attend Northern Arizona University with a major in Electrical Engineering and a minor in Computer Science.

Wolf Howl Senior Staff Profiles

Emily Dominguez

This was my first year in the newspaper. I've learned so much and met so many amazing people as well as so many new skills. This fall I'll be attending Northern Arizona University to study journalism. Throughout my four years at CHS I was involved in many extra curricular activities including student council and model un. As much as I'll miss the people I've met here, I am excited for the future.

Tyler Irwin

This is my second and last year in the newspaper. With this class I was able to meet new people and learn a ton about journalism. My four years at CHS were pretty fun, however I'm glad it's over. Photography was definitely my favorite part of this class and I will use it outside of this class and eventually I'll use journalism for something, at ASU! Go Wolves!

Claire Jones

I am the special features editor for the Wolf Howl. I joined the newspaper because I wanted to be a part of something that creates creative content for our school. I have learned a lot of things in this class from how to conduct a successful interview to how to create long lasting memories with friends. My plans after highschool are to attend NAU for 4 years and earn a bachelors degree in visual communications. I chose to study this field because of my love for art. I enjoy making collages, drawing, and taking photos in my free time. Through newspaper, I got to work on graphic designs for our stories and magazines which introduced me to digital art. I found my passion for graphic design through this newspaper class which I am so grateful for. I will miss my fellow staff and highschool. It's been a great and unforgettable four years at Chandler High. Bye Wolves!

Lexi Thompson

During my time at Chandler High School I was captain of the Pom team, President of Modazz, and Captain of Unified Cheer. I've always loved to dance and have been a dancer since before I could walk. Between school and dance, I'm always hanging out with friends or listening to music. I've always wanted to be a nurse so I will be going into nursing school next fall at Hawaii Pacific University. I joined Newspaper this year to get more comfortable with writing and to get out of my comfort zone a bit and try something new. I've enjoyed my time in Newspaper and would recommend it to anyone looking for a new experience!

Andrew Phillips

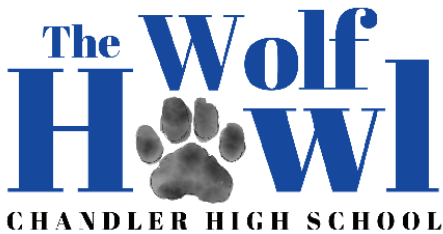

It's hard to believe it's all almost over. I've been the news editor of the Wolf Howl for three years, and the Chandler High Wolf Howl has been incredibly influential to how I view the world. My time here has taught me to be more curious, more discerning, and more passionate in my day-to-day life, and I know that the incredible reporters I've worked with will continue to make this newspaper an incredible one for years to come. I've made some genuine friendships through this class, friendships that have persisted outside of Newspaper and will hopefully continue once I leave Chandler High. This school has its issues, but I will always look back fondly upon this period of my life forever.

Ethan Quezada

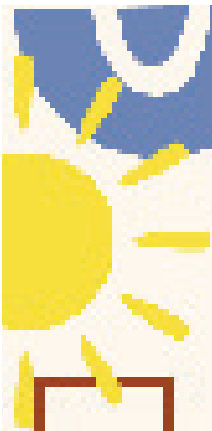

I am from Erie, Pennsylvania and recently moved to Chandler last summer for my senior year of high school. I have participated in Cross Country along with Track & Field throughout high school, but I have played other various sports from a young age. I enjoy spending time with friends and being outdoors as much as I can. Last year, I took a creative writing class and knew I wanted to do something similar again and that's when I found The Wolf Howl. I have gained numerous great friends because of The Wolf Howl. Over the past school year, I have been able to meet many new people while sharing information about our school, community, and the world. Chandler has shown me many kind people who are welcoming of anyone joining our school.
