NOTES-

I'm hoping that new homework is going well! As I start to see progress, I will be moving up the fluency homework to move with your child's growth. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Bonus Homework: Often times there are pages in the bonus homework that refer to a specific story- the name of the story that we read aloud in class is always located in the top right hand corner of that page. This should help your child when completing these pages.
