Review of the Week Before

This week we focused on the outdoors in conjunction with our EQ: What could you see on a hike?

We reviewed letters and sounds, as well as segmenting and blending all the sounds in a word. We learned a new word family, -ig.

We discussed writing an opinion and how opinions are how we feel and can be different from others, and that it is also important to justify your opinion. We also did some writing to answer the EQ, as well as writing to practice our new sight words —all, her, when.

For grammar, we continued to focus on verbs. We revisited past tense verbs by playing a little game where I give a student a verb and he/she has to act in out in front of the class while the others guess the verb being acted out. The trick this time was to guess the verb, but then also change it to its past tense form.

In math, we began a new unit on measurement. We learned about length and height.

This week we learned about both Presidents Lincoln and Washington for the upcoming holiday. We also celebrate Valentines Day by passing out valentines to our friends, and discussed how it is AZ's birthday as well!
