Q: What did you do during quarantine as a graduating senior?

A: Gabriel Hawthorne

I started practicing yoga and made weekly flexibility goals for myself. I have also started watching Madam Secretary.

A: Abbigail 'Abbey' Brunell

I've been cleaning and trying to get my life together. Procrastination is still a part of me, especially doing homework, so I'm striving to change that. Fingers crossed!

A: Elliot Squire

While in quarantine, I've been working on myself and my future. I've done so much more art and am now working to make it my career. I've started online college courses and have made plans to start college soon.

A: Daniel Passmore-Foster

I've been making sure to keep up on school work and I'm actually able to catch up with my long-distance friends. I've also made a few more like one in Canada and another in Australia!

A: Miranda Gonzalez

I have been doing a lot of various art projects like decorating my graduation cap, painting my guitar, and a bunch of other stuff. I've also been learning a lot of new things like playing instruments and how to skateboard.

A: Alexander Vaughn

I have been working as an essential employee at a grocery store because that's all I have time for.

A: Angelina Flores

I have been focusing on all the positive things as much as I can. I am creating new hobbies and talking on the phone with my friends as much as I can.

ASU is what's next for me. Majoring in business while fervently pursuing writing music all at the same time. I will be living at home my first year and look to move into an apartment with friends down the road. Looking to the future with integrity and excitement.

Avery Chisenski

I am very excited to be attending Tufts University to major in international relations. I currently intend to focus on international economics and environment in order to find long term solutions to climate change in developing economies. I really hope to continue my passion for the performing arts on the East Coast and I will forever be thankful for the opportunities Chandler gave me to grow and learn.

Amelia Oliver

After high school I'm going to MCC for business management and build my career from there.

Ryan Lopez

After high school, I plan on living at home for two years going to Chandler-Gilbert Community College. Then I'll transfer to Grand Canyon University and move out to live on campus. I plan on majoring in psychology with more focus in forensic psychology and I'll focus on that until I get my doctorate degree.

Aniyah Clemons-Walker

My plans after high school include attending Grand Canyon University to study and major in Forensic Science. Currently, I am wanting to move out but only to experience campus life at my university so that I can enjoy every second of my freshman year!

Sarah Montero

College for sure. I'm pursuing biomedical engineering. I wanna move out and hopefully what's next is a four year degree :))

Teah Scott

Now What??

I will be continuing my education at CGCC, where I will be studying psychology. I will be staying home during those two years but plan to find my own place after I finish at CGCC.

Emily Faust

We Graduated!!

After high school I'm going to be continuing my education at Arizona State University, majoring in business. With this, I hope to be able to get a degree that I can use anywhere in the world. I want to continue being internationally-minded and using the lessons I have learned from my teachers, parents, and friends in the last couple of years to improve my understanding of both the world and myself. During college and afterward, I plan on studying and traveling abroad and making connections with people across the globe. I think it's important to learn as much as possible about other cultures and to allow oneself to escape their own comfort of living and to experience the life of someone else in order to change their own perception.

Kyra Ellis

I am going to MCC majoring in language studies, specifically taking the ASL program. I am hoping to stay at home to save money and then move out later when I feel more prepared.

Brooklyn Mace

I'm planning on going to CGCC to get my requirements done. Then I'm applying to ASU for biomedical engineering with a minor in electrical engineering. I would love to move out, but as long as I have a good relationship with my parents, rent is cheap.

Joseph Bigley

Beyond Chandler High I plan on attending either the University of San Diego or Point Loma Nazarene University, as I have been accepted into their nursing program. Therefore, I plan on majoring in nursing throughout college in order to pursue that in the future.

Victoria Hernandez

I'll be attending ASU in the fall and am going to major in computer science. After I graduate from ASU I would like to attend a visual effects and animation school in Los Angeles with the hopes of working in the visual effects industry.

Josh Karlin

I plan on going to CGCC for two years and major in nursing to get my associates, then transfer to ASU to get my master's. I plan on living at home while I attend CGCC then moving out when I attend ASU.

Madison Gentry

After high school, I plan to attend ASU majoring in marketing. During that time, I will get all of the prerequisites required for optometry school. After receiving my bachelor's degree, I plan to attend a school of optometry with hopes of becoming an optometrist working in private practice. I want to move out, but I think I will stay at home for my first year of college to save money.

Trent Gaiser

So far, the plan after high school is to attend CGCC and take some NAU classes there, so the transition from community college to university will go smoothly. I want to major in journalism. It's been a long-time dream for me. At the same time, I plan to also pursue a career in linguistics for German. I know things will change along the way, but that's the path I want to follow.

Abbey Brunell

After high school, I'm planning on taking the ROTC route through Mesa community college and also taking a major in criminal justice. I'm planning on staying home for a while because as soon as the time is right I'm serving a two-year church mission. With my free time, I'll continue to be a charity worker for kids that have been through rough child abuse and give them a hero, a reason to smile.

Tyson Price

Thank you Chandler, for all the people and amazing memories. After high school I plan to attend CGCC for two years and then attend a university. I would like to study medicine, hoping to one day be a nurse.

Erica Ramirez

My plan after high school is to go to college. I will be going for softball. I will be majoring in Pre-Dental. Depending on where I choose to go will result in if I'm moving out but most likely yes. Honestly, hard work in school to get to where I want to be in the future with my future career is what's next for me.

Lilly Saucedo

I plan on going to ASU downtown Phoenix to major in nursing! I am so excited to move out of my house and into the dorms!

Faith Moore

In a short time, I will be attending ASU to begin my journey towards reaching my goals. I will be studying political science, with a goal of also attending law school. I can't wait to see what the future holds.

Austin Morrow

After I graduate, I plan to go to school at ASU and study mechanical engineering! I would love nothing more than to move out... but I guess I can stand to live with my parents for a couple more years and save money haha. I'm excited to enter this new chapter in life! I'm excited to make decisions and occasionally make the wrong ones by accident. I'm excited to change my mind and change it again because, as we have all learned the hard way...nothing is permanent. I'm just excited to live life in the moment and live life to the fullest.

Cierra Solomon

After high school, I am headed off to ASU to study electrical engineering. I'm hoping to move out and start living on my own

Austin Clayton

Take nothing serious, but take everything serious. High school taught me things I'll never forget. My next chapter, in the most optimistic view, is to change the world. Through my Art, through my heart, or in any way I can. I aim to leave the world memorable. Elijah J. Newton will go down in history. It took and still takes a village to make someone, so Power to All People, and till the next time we meet...EJ out!

EJ Newton

After high school, I'll be attending the University of Arizona in Tucson, AZ. I don't have an exact plan yet, but I'm planning on majoring in statistics or economics. I hope to deepen my passion for learning, and have a successful career in whatever I choose to do.

Kailey Shupe

Though my time at Chandler High came to an unexpected and abrupt halt, what came before has prepared me for what is to come. I plan on continuing my educational career accepting a place among the student body enrolled at BYU Provo. I have experience in high level math and physics classes and enjoy many fields of engineering especially those related to civil projects so I'd like to pursue a career as such. If quarantine has taught me anything, it's that relationships should never be taken for granted. Life after high school may prove difficult, but the bonds I've built at Chandler High will help me see it through.

Ricky Kelsey

I'm planning on attending Brigham Young University-Idaho with my twin sister and older brother in the fall. My major is special education, but I also want to keep up with my music.

Claire Owens

I plan on going to school at BYU-Idaho where I plan on studying psychology. I am excited and nervous for whatever is next.

Grace Coria

I'm majoring in kinesiology at Arizona State University so I can help people with what I went through with my injury. I am living on campus and ready to spread my wings and meet new people.

Nainoa Aguano

My plans for after high school are attending University of Arizona where I'll be staying on campus and rooming with one of my best friends! I will be majoring in fine arts for photography. I also plan on rushing for fun and to find new friends.

Hannah Ohton

I will be attending Brigham Young University Idaho campus. I am majoring in music in the fall, and I plan on serving a mission in the spring. I'm so excited to start this next chapter in my life!!

Elise Owens

I have two choices I can make, I can spend a year in Germany studying abroad or follow the plan to go to college. If I was to go to college I would major in business and minor in German or Econ. Either way, I am going to move out and live on campus or in Germany, so I do not know what's entirely next for me as I haven't made a choice yet.

Aram Coleman

I'll be attending ASU, majoring in mechanics engineering. I plan to move into a residential college for the first year and live from home following. My goal is to score a job right out of college and have the company pay for my continued education.

Class of 2020 Senior Wills

Kyle Kisthardt

Challenges are what make life interesting, overcoming those challenges are what make life meaningful.

Christian Nesbitt

This is Christian Nesbitt, all I gotta say is if you can be a half-day senior, doing it full day is not the move. And don't stress over having all A's, junior year is over.

Edgar Suarez

Every person you meet knows something you don't; learn from them.

Rocio Loera

Always remember to keep trying and to not give up, you're almost there.

Camron Morris

Please be healthy and don't trash the school.

Lexus Estrella

Being a senior is the best thing. Live your life; also senioritis is a real thing.

Sandy Santos

One of my seniors will help underclassmen to show them they would have trouble. Also it will be difficult but also fun.

Victoria Hernandez

Stay true to yourself and don't be afraid of challenges, but continue to go after them because they will shape you.

Bryn Creek

Be true to the person you are, but continue to push yourself to grow.

Kayla Reyes

Remember to relax and not take school too seriously. Go out, have fun, you're only a teenager once and don't let your school work consume you. And I cannot stress enough, MIND YOUR BUSINESS!

Emelia Cancellieri

To Macy Winn,
Keep tennis alive for me and beat Hamilton in 2021 :).

Ariana Toliver

Keep working hard, even though you may want to give up, keep going. It's worth it.

Diana Parra

Live your best life 'til you can. Senioritis will hit you so FAST!

Jade Weatherman

Everyone will say your senior year goes by the fastest and they're right so enjoy it. Ditching isn't the move so do your work and enjoy it while it lasts because real life is right around the corner.

Marcus Subiran

Do your best in school regardless of work. Do classwork and other school work before you do other things.

Sarah Quintana

Don't be afraid to challenge yourself in school because EVERY experience is a learning experience that will shape you into a better person.

Paul Romero

Quizlet will be your BFF.

Quezada D. Manuel

Look to your right and left,
see who's there and who's not.
Look toward the right of way.
Never follow others and create your own path.

Topazio Roman

Get involved and don't be afraid to make new friends.
Make every moment count.

Hailey Jones

Do your homework! It will keep your grades up. Trust me.

Luis Rodriguez

Take advantage of every day because you'll be gone and never come back.

Isabella Switzer

Do not let senioritis get to you because this year still counts.
Come to school and make sure to try your best all year.

Alex Chavez

I advise future seniors to stay on task. The senior year counts the most.

Justin Burruel

My senior will is to give my
UNO deck to my junior friend
Donison Tsunami.

Cassidy Bright

Just go with the flow dude! Be ya self! <3

Avery Chisenski

Never take anything for granted, live and create moments, get involved and experience endless memories.

Sebastian Stein

Nothing in life will come easy, always work for what you want.

Aniyah Clemons-Walker

I would like to remind everyone to stay on top of your grades. I know it might get boring or hard but pushing through will help you in the long haul. Especially junior year.

Kailyn Martinez Rivera

Looking back I thought high school would take forever to come to an end. But it's over faster than you expect, so enjoy as much of it as you can and make great memories.

Nitza Chait Cortez

I, Cienna Samiley, leave my love and support with my sister Seneca Samiley and my brother Christian Cenizal.
High school will be over before you know it so hang in there and make the most of it.

Amelia Oliver

To those in theater, keep auditioning! Never give up and keep reaching for your dreams.

Ricky Kelsey

To the future of CHS
Volleyball, I leave the legacy of Rick From the 480.

Chel Bird

To Abe, Abby, and Brok, my snare babies: I want to leave all my happy memories (and cans of Redbull) from the last four years, most of which involve you guys. Take these and go create many more with the years you have left. I love you for infinity. Love,
Chel Bird.

Lilly Ramirez

To future IB students, please please do your IA the week
you are assigned. Please!
Please! For the love of God
just do it!

Anthony Plitz

Hey Jackie I'm willing you the "friend of everyone" badge. I know you're already doing this, but seeing your smile always made my day fantastic and you're always such a bright star. Keep on being fantastic! You're awesome!

Marina Sanchez

I would tell them to show up to class and be a half day if you can. Also, just keep your friend circle small and mind your business.

John Garcia

To all my underclassmen, don't underestimate senior year. Get your work done if you really want to have a fun year.

Dalysha Bennett

My senior will as Dalysha Bennett is to pass along all my good habits along to my younger siblings.

Luis Castro

Make sure to do all your work. Also stay motivated to go to school.

Nazarene Simmala

Take every chance you can get to fulfill your dreams.

Kendal Hollinger

I Kendal Hollinger would to help my underclassmen by telling them that senior year is chill as long as you do your homework because that's basically half the grade and too not be stupid.

Victoria Pena

Just be yourself and do not change yourself. You are fine just the way you are.

Raedyn Hursey

Life is hard, and that's normal! Hold your friends close and you will make it through all rough times. Be kind to yourself.

Sam Gerard

To Alex . Keep your head up. I'll miss you but remember, we've got modern technology to keep in contact. Remember to do your homework and don't do anything I wouldn't do. Love, Sam.

Marco Ramirez

Dear Band and Choir kids, Please be sure to save your lungs for the important things :). Make sound not to smoke!

Alina Hawkins

To Teagan: KICK IT LIKE BRUCE LEE.

Esme Crawford-Paz Soldan

Dear Honors Students, don't stress out, you have the willpower to do this! Take physics, even if you think it will be difficult, be warned that statistics is just as hard as calculus, and know that kindness is just as valuable as intelligence.

Maria Raygoza

Dear Emilio, have fun and enjoy your time in h.s, it goes by fast. Van haber muchas cosas que cambian y amigos que van y vienen. Enjoy your next 4 years!

Colton Hove

Don't fall into the mindset that high school kids know what they're doing. People will act like they have everything figured out. They don't, no one does. Just live your life and be a decent person.

Cragun Johnson

Don't give up! I know high school is a very challenging part of your life, but you can make it. Just believe in your himself.

Austin Morrow

Go out and enjoy every last second here. These moments will be the ones you hold onto forever.

Abbigail Brunell

Prioritize your work, especially when you're taking honors/AB/IB classes. If need be, you're free to take some time to yourself to relieve some stress.

Isabel Honzay

Dear Hanna, Heyyy~ Have lots of fun in your last 2 years of high school! It flies by... I mean obviously it does. I love you, lil' sis!!

Madison Apoderado

To all my StuCo Children, Kami Escobar, Trinity Lindquist, Andrea Martinez, and Anella Gomez, I love you so, so much! I believe in all you guys!

Rhys Kapchan

Caleb, thank you for ser mi mejo amigo y always be there for me. Mahal na mahal kita talaya.

Victoria Perez

Enjoy it! Live dangerously! If anything do it because you will do it anyways!

Alyssa Stout

Go to that event, take that picture, talk to that boy, do it all. Live your life, and don't miss out on anything, you're only a teenager once, no regrets!

Ty Gonzalez

High school is supposed to be fun, so go all out, go to parties, go to all school events, have late-night adventures, and don't get hung up on relationships. Live it up!!!

Savannah Ritter

Dear future sports med student aids, enjoy the best years of your life taking care of our love athletes. I hope you fall in love with every Friday Nights Lights. Learn more and do more.

Alexis Campana-Pavlovic

To all my fellow orchestra bros, keep classical alive. Don't listen to the fame of band and choir, just take my love and play away.

Lilo Rhoden

To the varsity sports med girls: take care of our athletes. Enjoy every Friday Nights Lights game and take pictures with everyone. It goes by in the blink of an eye.

Ariana Alvarez

To incoming seniors, don't give up. You're almost done. Always be proud of the choices you make, it's not worth dwelling on your mistakes. Make someone smile everyday!

Adrian Robles

School is tough, life is tough, everything's pretty tough in these trying times. But pick your heads up king/queen, your crown is falling. You can do anything, I believe in you, enjoy your high school life!

James Haymore

Take the time to invest in yourselves. Care about your grades and be actively involved in extracurricular activities.

Joe Bigley

First off, don't fall behind. Just don't. To Ethan, keep it up! I believe in you, and I know you'll do great! Signing off, Joe Bigley.

Jazmyn Montez-Williams

Dakota Rains! You will be okay this next year! I will come back to visit and I hope you find the happiness you've been looking for. I LOVE YOU!

Joshua Gamble

My name is Joshua Gamble and senior year is real easy. So easy that you don't feel like doing anything, so try your best.

Alexander Moxley

Don't waste your time on things that are useless. But you better make sure to give 1,000% to everything else.

Gabby Williams

Bri, I'm so proud of you and everything you have accomplished. You are determined. Never lose that. Have fun next year. Enjoy all the little things. I love you.

Riley Barton

Live it out because it goes by fast.

Carlos Arroyo

Don't look for misery in the homework you are assigned because you will find it. High school is not the end of the world so just relax and enjoy yourself.

Jonathan Tejada

Don't waste your time on hard classes, if it's too hard don't go for it. Just relax and have fun. Have the best high school experience.

Grace Coria

To my little brother Carson, you got it! Make sure you finish your homework. Love you!

Aline Godoy

I recommend that underclassmen show up to class everyday in order to be successful. I also recommend that you mind your business and avoid drama.

Emiliano Venegas

This is to my homie Dario. My will to him is to have fun and enjoy high school.

Makayla Gamboa-Salazar

Keep your mindset strong. I promise you'll make it through, time flies as a senior.

Ayshia Woods

Think about how far you're made it, not how far you have to go.

Trevor Vega

Instead of worrying about what you can't control, shift your energy to what you can CREATE. Always remember that life goes on...

John Osorio

Enjoy the moments you have with your friends. Always stay motivated to finish school and always tell yourself, "You can do it!"

Kambria Anson

"It's not the stars to hold our destiny but in ourselves."

- William Shakespeare

Ivan Briseno

As a senior, Ivan Briseno, all the underclassmen should be here everyday and not to procrastinate. If you do these things trust me it will be hard to catch up.

Jeffrey Chen

I wanted to let you know that you got this. Even when life has you worked up, it's just life testing how strong you are.

Damilola Oladipo

I would like to leave my colorful pen to a someone I know who appreciates them to Sana Mobauiza.

Cierra Bevilockway

My senior will is to be a role model to my freshman (volleyball) "sister" Josephine Mayer.

PINNACLE PREVENTION

Pinnacle Prevention is an Arizona-based nonprofit organization dedicated to growing healthy families and communities.

Our mission is to inspire and advance healthy food system and opportunities for active living.

Our team of registered dietitians, researchers and social scientists believe all families should have access to healthy food and opportunities to develop healthy relationships with foods.

We think all individuals should have access to healthy and safe communities to enjoy physical activity, and we work to make these visions a reality across Arizona.

How seniors are reacting to cancellations and changes

When I found out about school being canceled and our school events I was devastated. As someone who was looking forward to my last dance performance while being Modazz I was shocked. We had worked night and day to finish our choreography, dances, lighting, and music. I have spent my 4 years looking forward to that last concert + senior prom and it hurts to know I'll never get that. I am also apart of the IB program and have spent the last years preparing for my exams that now feel pointless.

Starr Segovia-Lara

I understand that all of this is out of our control, but it is still hard to handle. All of my teachers have been very communicative and supportive during these crazy times. I miss my teachers and friends very much. I hope that we all come out of this as stronger versions of ourselves.

Gabriel Hawthorne

This time in our lives is something none of us saw coming, especially as we all left two months ago for spring break. Online learning has been a difficult adjustment, but my teachers have been outgoing and generous with feedback. It was nice to receive a handwritten letter from my Spanish teacher Senora Bender, wishing me luck on my IB orals this past week. I hope that in the future, all of us seniors have a chance to reconnect as the Class of 2020 one last time before we go our separate ways after high school.

Alexandra Wilhelm

I have looked forward to my last quarter of high school for the last four years. I was so excited for my last prom, senior week, and graduation. I won't even be able to have a graduation party now... I know the need to be safe is more important as I have an autoimmune disease. Being high risk is scary but also missing out on everything we were supposed to experience is just as scary. So many memories were lost, I didn't get to say goodbye because I thought I'd see everyone after break. I ordered my grad cards with enough to give out to all past and present teachers, makes me sad I'll never step foot on campus as a student again. I drove thirty minutes to school everyday and now I feel like that all went down the drain... I am lucky that I have so many amazing memories and experiences as a wolf, but our time as seniors was not done yet.

Ashlyn Reidhead

I am very sad that I got my senior year taken away from me. High School Musical Senior Year was my favorite movie and I dreamed my senior year would be amazing but... no prom, no crossing the stage in front of my senior class, no senior spirit week, no senior ditch day, no senior prank, and the last time I walk the halls or saw my teachers, I didn't know it. I didn't have the satisfaction of knowing it was my last day on campus and being The Senior. Online school for me is good because I am going to do college online and it is a good test to see if I can keep up. I'd rather do online school but I miss the human interaction.

Payton Stehle

I was truly devastated to learn that my senior year would be cut short. I had never been to prom before and was planning on attending this year, but unfortunately it got canceled. I did not get to finish my last ever season of softball and I might not get to walk the stage at my graduation. Online school is tough for me and I'd rather be in the classroom with my teachers instead of by myself at home. After all those years of resenting going to school, I never thought I'd miss it as much as I do now.

Danielle Dyer

Online school has impacted me in many ways but the biggest one being that I can't learn properly without being in the classroom. I don't understand most of my assignments but need to complete them to bring my grades up, and the fact that it can only go up one letter grade is very unfortunate. The AP test was almost $100 and it's only going to be one question long? Everything that we all looked forward to was gone so quickly which hurts very much but the worst part is the fact that our grades can only go up by one letter grade even when we're not learning the way that we are supposed to.

Ariana Alvarez

Well I finished the 12 years of schooling to not have the best 3 months out of all the 12 years. I am mad. It sucks but class of 2020 said we were going to make history and we did, we just didn't think it would be like this. I struggled with all upper-level classes to relax the last 3 months for senior traditions and that's been taken away from me. The possibility of winning prom queen and king is gone, prank week is gone, spirit week is gone, it's all been taken away.

Daniela Montufar

I know it's not the end of the world, but it still feels wrong. Online classes are not helpful to me and I don't really care about prom or graduation that much. However I've seen the impacts it had on my friends and I can't help but feel horrible.

Anthony Plitz

When I heard the news about all cancellations, I was shocked. I didn't think the pandemic was this serious considering all you had to do to prevent it was to stay home and wash your hands. I was heartbroken to hear about graduation, it felt like all the hard work we did went down the drain. I know that's not the case and it was just a series of unfortunate events, our hard work wasn't for nothing. All the more reason to finish this year strong.

Abbey Brunell

Discovering that cancellations were in place for our senior traditions such as prom, sports, prank week, paper toss, and many more was heartbreaking. All of us understand this is needed in a time like this but I can't help but feel like a part of my childhood is now missing. Crying on Austin Field with all of my friends was something I was looking forward to but now we just make the most out of what's left of our senior year.

Robert Hanford

I was a little bummed out because the best time of the school year is always the final quarter. For the past 3 years looking forward to what the seniors would do was super intriguing and everybody including me looked forward to it. Finally now that I'm a senior I got the chance to do the most fun and best part of school before graduating but sadly it couldn't happen after the 12 entire school years I've been waiting for.

Jolina Gomez

It hurts. You look forward to the fourth quarter of your senior year for 4 years and we got ours ripped away. There are so many memories that we won't get to have, prom, the paper drop, senior prank week, and all the memories you make in class with your friends. I got to finish the final season of my sport, and I am so sorry for all the seniors who never got to finish their season.

Madeline Nunn

It's sad that it had to end like this, I was really looking forward to my senior prom and graduation. I've been waiting 3 years for my senior prom and my graduation and now I don't have anything or any memories from it. Starting online was pretty confusing but once you get it, it's easy, I just miss going to school and seeing all my teachers and friends.

Haylie Mora

It's been heartbreaking to watch all of these memories we've been looking forward to creating and cherishing go up in smoke. All these last opportunities to be a kid, and forge the memories we will be telling for years to come, all gone within the blink of an eye. Seniors are strong, we will make it through this and create our own cherished memories.

Chel Bird

The cancellation of prom was a bit hard because it was what a lot of kids were looking up to apart from graduation. It is a night where we can all show out best outfits and share memorable moments with our friends. The night before we know how we're going to live our lives and be able to enjoy the little bit of kids left within us.

Rogelio Huitron-Ramirez

It seriously sucks. I understand the social climate we're in though, so I don't feel too horrible about it. There still is that crushing feeling in my chest though when I think about the years and years of school I went through, watching other seniors get their goodbye formalities and never getting any of that.

Elliot Squire

It's hard to feel upset and angry when there's other things in the world going on right now that is more important, but it's also hard to avoid those feelings because I don't think anyone wanted to end their senior year at home doing online schooling.

Marianne Damacion

I don't like the fact that everything is canceled and that we have to take online classes. I don't think high school is/was prepared for online classes at all. Hopefully nothing surprising happens and things stay somewhat okay.

Ryan Demko

I'm more sad that we aren't able to see friends than I am about the actual events being canceled, because to me those events are to see my friends. Otherwise I'm taking it all in stride.

Hailey Kooser

It's very upsetting that we won't enjoy a senior prom and last dance on a good note but I guess the only thing you can really do is move on.

Jovan Ravago

Sad that I can't get together again with the group of classmates and I didn't say good-bye to them. Also too bad to end my last year this way.

Lena Lin

Wolf Howl Seniors - 2020

Gabriel Hawthorne - Editor in Chief/Outreach Coordinator

I joined the Newspaper staff at the start of my sophomore year, and I can safely say that my life would not look the way it currently does if I had not decided to join. I joined to get a taste of the field of journalism. After three years of writing and editing stories, interviewing strangers, creating pages, and teaching what I have learned, I have never felt more in my element. In this class, I am not restricted to specialize in one area, as I can write about my interests and let my creative side come out in my designs. My journey from being a reporter to being the Editor in Chief has allowed me to become a leader in this incredible field. I am not the same person as I was when I first joined, and I could not have done it without my peers or Mrs. Rasmussen. I am sad to leave everyone, but I know they will do excellent next year with their gifted talents and Rassy as their adviser. I will miss every lunch period and after school hour editing and creating each newspaper and magazine. Next year I will be attending New York University to double-major in Journalism and International Relations with a minor in environmental studies. Also, I will be spending my first year abroad at NYU Madrid. I hope to find a career either as a foreign correspondent or an investigative reporter. Thank you, Newspaper, for being with me throughout high school and helping me grow as a journalist and as a person.

Sam Gerard - Entertainment Editor

I didn't expect to join the newspaper team. In my early years of high school, I only wanted to write fiction. I planned my elective classes and kept my focus in those classes on what would hold the most potential to help me in my goal to becoming an author. One thing I did not plan but what ended up happening was my parents forcing me to join my school newspaper team to increase my writing skills. It seemed like a good idea, but it ended with me becoming an editor for the paper the next year, and rather than writing articles, I was editing them and placing them into hand-made layouts. I found joy in doing this, loving the experience of creating the layouts from nothing and being able to organize the content in a visually pleasing way to showcase the reporter's work. It wasn't until I took part in a layout competition did I realize that all of my previous experiences in the arts have led to this position and potentially to a field of study in college. I have always loved to create and see a design come to life, and as an editor, I was in charge of doing this and my grade was dependent on it. My focus shifted from writing the content to creating the shelves for the content to lay on. I remember the first time I put together a newspaper as an editor. We had to put advertisements into each individual paper before distributing, and I remember the entire time, we were just singing 'Bohemian Rhapsody' despite there being a class beneath us and across the hall from us. At that moment, I felt the connection with my team that I am going to be so sad to give up at the end of my senior year.

Gabby Williams - Sports Editor/Photography Manager

Joining the Wolf Howl Staff had never even crossed my mind until the end of sophomore year when my English teacher recommended it for me. I had always enjoyed writing and thought that this would be a good way to push myself to try new things and be more involved. I have learned so much from this class that I couldn't have learned anywhere else. I have found my voice in my writing and enjoy writing most about topics that invoke change. This year I was the sports editor and lead photographer for the Wolf Howl. A lot of hard work and long hours were put into every issue. Each one more stressful than the next but seeing your work printed and the pages you designed come to life made it all worth it. After high school, I plan to continue my education at Chandler-Gilbert Community College majoring in English (Creative Writing). I also plan to go to Lithuania to teach young kids how to speak English through the International Language Program next summer. I am excited to continue trying new things, learning new skills, and creating memories to last a lifetime.

Kyle Kisthardt - Staff Reporter

Challenges are what make life interesting, overcoming those challenges is what makes life meaningful. The reason I joined the newspaper team was because of Mrs. Rasmussen and her unique way of forming a bond with each and every one of her students. I was invited to join Newspaper at the end of my sophomore year but I didn't join until my senior year. Newspaper and journalism has shown me that even the most difficult tasks in life can be achieved by using your voice. Writing is all about change; if you don't like something write about it and change it. My favorite memory of the class other than the immense family bond is figuring out what all goes into running our paper. Being behind the scenes you see how much paper work and hard work it takes to run a class or even just being a teacher. The instant you step into the class you get this impression that it's like nothing else. You aren't surrounded by fellow students or friends but instead you're surrounded by your editors/boss, your fellow reporters, and most importantly your family when you become one of us. My intentions after high school is to pursue a career in psychology or attend business school and obtain my MBA. From our humble classroom I have grown and been able to alter my world viewpoint and expand my knowledge through a diverse support team that lets me see things from more than just my own perspective. Joining the newspaper is more than just joining a class, it's joining a team. Everyone here is responsible for something and if it doesn't get done, it affects more than just that person. This whole class is basically a job with different levels of responsibility using your fellow reporters to improve an article that will eventually be placed alongside others to create our newspaper. Additionally alongside creating an actual newspaper that is distributed throughout the whole school, we also create magazines and other special issues that are all done by the students. My biggest regret of my high school career is not joining this class sooner. You join not knowing anyone but leave at the end of the school year with a whole new family of writers there to support you every step of the way.

Sierra Mitchell - Staff Reporter

Before I joined Newspaper, I danced my whole life. When my fourth knee injury took away my dream of going professional. After not being able to participate in dance, I had no idea what class I was going to take to fill in the gap in my schedule. I was in the counselor's office on Wolf Day and the counselor suggested I should join. My favorite memory from the class is that when I first joined, I have never felt so welcome to a class before. I have had the opportunity to make so many new friends and come closer to the ones I already had before joining this class. Not only that, but I also had the opportunity to attend sporting events and get to work with some of our school's athletes to interview them and write some amazing articles. My favorite article that I have written for this class was my "Mental Health Resources" article, knowing that I would be helping those in need. I knew I had to put a lot of hard work into it to make it the best possible. I also had the opportunity to take pictures at the events. I have only been in the class for a year. My writing skills and photography skills have improved so much since I have joined the class. This class has also taught me to have more patience with others. After high school, I plan to attend East Valley Institute of Technology for Cosmetology. I have toured lots of different schools to find the right one. I had the opportunity to tour EVIT and as soon as I stepped on the campus, I knew that this was the place to attend. There, I will receive my cosmetology licenses and be able to continue my new dream of becoming a hairdresser.

Claire Bridges - Staff Reporter/Writing Coach

You can read the newspapers and magazines our class produces, but the work that goes into those creations is not at all what you'd expect. Are there any hints of our class' chaotic mayhem hidden within our writing, any physical evidence of our constant wild playing and singing? My first year in Newspaper was my junior year, after I'd received a letter of recommendation my sophomore year, and the lunacy of the class became clear to me very quickly. Fire had spurred me into motion at the idea of joining a class made entirely of writers like me, but what I hadn't taken into account was the pure madness that would come from... well, a room full of people like me. The course description could never have prepared me. One thing I'd like to make clear, however, is that every bit of good-natured anarchy only made me love the class more. Desire to write warped into riveting discussions about pineapple on pizza or the blemish of comic sans on mankind, the moment any of us opened our mouths. Believe me, there are very few things the Newspaper class agrees on more than our hatred of that font. When I say comic sans is a blemish on mankind, I'm putting it gently. I suppose I'm struggling to put my love of this class into words, since so much of the class is indescribable. Say what I may, I can never sum up the feeling in the room when we all start to belt 'I Want It That Way'. I can only hope to describe this class as a family, as that's truly what we are. Want-to-be writers all come together to inspire, comfort, and love one another in this class. It may be a chaotic, loud, difficult family, but that's just why we love it so. That, our combined craziness, might just be the whole reason our class succeeds. Way to go, guys; I'll miss you. (P.S. Please reread the first word in every sentence.)

EJ Thurman - Staff Reporter

Before I joined the newspaper family I loved the way Mrs. R taught because it was just straight to the point and I joined just to hang out in her class and get to know some new people. I didn't even realize what kind of environment I was getting myself. I thought sports were the most complicated thing in the world, but to be honest and fair this class was an absolute joy when you get your job done while singing. When I took on the role of Advertising Manager I thought it would be a slice of pie, but it wasn't. I didn't know how upset I could get with a business not responding to you when you wanna advertise them. On the other hand I felt like Mr. Eugene Krabs when I counted the money for our fundraisers. All in all it was a pleasure building another family aside from sports in my second half of my high school career. Now that it is time to move on to the real world and start actually "Adulting." I will be attending Chandler-Gilbert Community College where I will be studying Exercise Science and Kinesiology and continue playing baseball.

Kailey Shupe - Special Features Editor

I first joined the Wolf Howl as a junior. I was looking for a creative outlet and an extracurricular activity for colleges to look at me and say, "Wow! What a well rounded individual!" Little did I know that I was joining a family of beautifully creative minds, and somehow I've managed to learn from each and every one of them. I've grown to love using InDesign, despite the many extra hours I spent trying to deal with the fastidious program outside school hours and even during lunch. I wouldn't change a thing about my one and a half years at the Wolf Howl, and I leave Chandler High this year having a better picture of who I am and a great example of what the word "team" means to me. I plan on continuing my academic career at the University of Arizona next year. Go Wolves, Ohana forever!
