HUMAN RESOURCES

Comp Time Payoff

Employees who physically work over 40 hours per week may be credited with comp time in lieu of overtime payment. Based upon the needs of the department/site, supervisors have the option to require overtime payment instead of granting a comp time request. Comp time is credited to an hourly employee to be used at a future date as paid leave. In all cases, comp time should be used in the same fiscal year. Comp time is available only to 40 hour per week employees. Employees should not work over their approved hours per week without supervisor approval. Like overtime, comp time is earned at time and one-half when hourly employees physically work over 40 hours per workweek. Employee comp time balances as reported on employee payroll checks includes any overtime (time and one-half) calculation.

Comp time in excess of 24 hours will be paid on November 12th and charged to the schools overtime budget. Employees should work with their supervisor to use excess comp time prior to October 9th.

Certified Teachers

We are updating our system on expiration dates for teaching certificates. Please go into Employee Online and verify that your expiration date is the same as the one on your certificate. If you do not have access to your certificate, you can use the teacher portal on Arizona Department of Education to verify. <http://www.azed.gov/educator-certification/publicportal/>

If the dates match, do nothing. If your expiration date is different than the one in Employee Online, please email Elizabeth Barker at barker.elizabeth@cusd80.com and let her know the correct date. Thank you for assisting us in getting all the dates verified.

Formative Assessment Insights FAQ

In addition to the FAQ compiled by WestEd, here are additional questions that have been asked by CUSD course participants regarding the Formative Assessment Insights course.

The course syllabus mentions a "1500 word paper reflection" ... is this a course requirement?

Only those seeking course credit from a university need to write a paper.

Do I have the option to move through the course at a faster pace than the suggested timeline?

No. All participants must move through the course at the pace of the timeline.

What is the homework for the course?

The homework for the course may involve reading, but will mainly focus on implementation in the classroom. Participants will be asked to implement what they are learning with their students, as well as participate in online discussions with colleagues.

Will my comments be published as the property of WestEd without teacher permission?

No, teacher comments will only be published in WestEd materials with permission from the teacher.

Is there any special software I need to participate in the course?

As long as you have access to a computer with Internet access and an up-to-date web browser like Internet Explorer, Firefox, or Chrome, you will be able to participate in the course, though you may also need to update some browser plug-ins like Adobe Flash. There are also mobile apps that will allow you to participate in many course activities using your smartphone (you can also read more details on which web browsers are supported for the online learning environment used in this course).

What is the format of the web events? Will they be interactive?

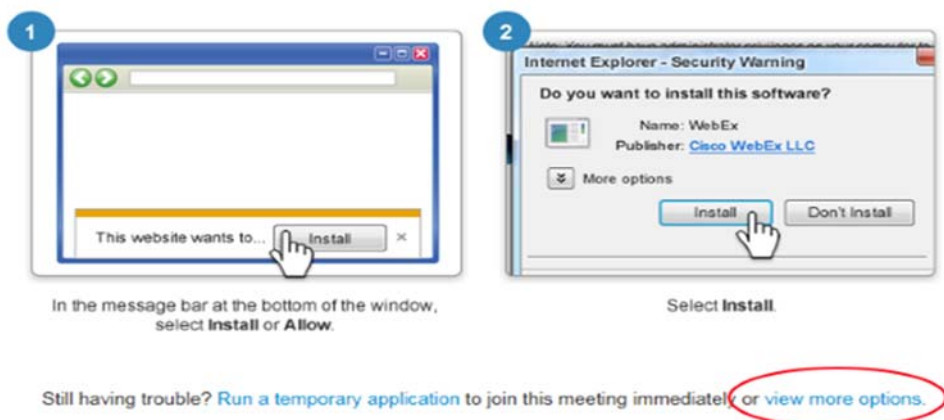

Due to the size of the class (around 3,000 participants), webinars will be transmitted in a one way fashion with a limited chat option for participants.

Is there any special software I need to have to attend the web event?

The web events are generally attended using an up-to-date web browser like Internet Explorer, Firefox, or Chrome. Sometimes additional plug-ins may be needed, so it is best to prepare ahead of time to make sure your device is able to access the web events. It is strongly recommended that course participants participate in a "test" event to make sure they are able to successfully join a web event. If they are not able to successfully connect to the test event, participants may wish to review the technical requirements and address them as needed (a CSR will need to be submitted for CUSD computers that do not meet the requirements).

Users may get to the following screen and then get "stuck" when trying to attend a web event:

Install Cisco WebEx Meetings

If this occurs, please try the view more options link highlighted above to see if other options may work on your device. If all options fail, you will need to update your browser (or other software) to meet the technical requirements for the web events, or submit a CSR. If you are able to connect to the web event but do not have audio, you may use your phone to call in for the audio (the number is toll free).

Will my computer need to have a camera and/or microphone to participate in the web events?

No, cameras and microphones will not be required.

How long will each web event be? When will they be scheduled?

The web events are scheduled to be one hour long, and are scheduled from 3:30 - 4:30 pm on:

- Tuesday, September 29, 2015
- Wednesday, November 18, 2015
- Tuesday, February 16, 2016

My teaching/coaching schedule conflicts with the web event schedule. Will the web events be available on demand if I am not able to participate live?

All webinars will be recorded and archived on the website, so teachers who cannot attend them in real-time can watch them at a later date.

Module 1 takes place over fall intersession. Can I work on the course if I am out of town?

As long as you have access to a computer with Internet access, you will be able to participate in the course. There are even mobile apps that will allow you to participate in many course activities using your smartphone (you can also read more details on which web browsers are supported for the online learning environment used in this course).

Please note that Module 1 is scheduled from September 21 through October 18, while fall intersession is scheduled from September 28 through October 9, so there is time available to work on the course before and after intersession.

Can you clarify how formative assessment related to Marzano's learning goals?

While Robert Marzano speaks to learning goals, the focus of formative assessments is on learning targets.

Can I work with colleagues at my own site, in my own department, etc.?

Course participants will be required to join a team (6-8 teachers per team) to share experiences as well as give and receive feedback on their respective formative assessment implementations. Groups of educators enrolling in the course may join a team together; individuals without a team will be assigned. Other voluntary or self-created groups will be possible for sharing and networking. Example groups include grade level, subject area, school-wide, district-wide, regional or state groups.

How much will my salary increase by taking the course? When will the increase take effect?

Upon completion of this course, certified staff may request a base salary increase of $240 ($80 per semester hour) annually. Requests should be submitted according to the normal timelines. Any class completed between January 1 and December 31, 2016, should be submitted for a pay increase by February 15, 2017. Base salary increases will be included in your 2017-2018 contract.

CUSD Trivia

How is a school district total budget determined?

Take the number of students times the State support per student. Add to that total the number of miles we transport students times the State support per mile. The total equals what a district is allowed to spend. The district can add 10% to 15% if they have an override.

Generations at Work

The dynamics of today's work force are changing rapidly. The old rules and structures are disappearing or being redefined. It's possible for workplaces to have 4 generations on the same work team sharing the same space. Each generation brings their own values, rules and styles, which sometimes can leave conflict and unproductive competition in its wake. Understand how each generation approaches work differently, explore the values that drive each generation, determine strengths of each generation and develop techniques for creating harmonious work teams.

Sandy Cooper, Asst. Superintendent for HR

Room 502—Capacity 30

Say No to Stress

Yes, it's true that we need some stress in our lives to keep ourselves safe and alert; it's also true that too much stress is the root of many illnesses and diseases and might carry you on a path towards self-destruction. How do you know if you've crossed the line and your stress level is outside the boundary of "healthy" stress? If you are tired of being tired, have lost your focus, your energy, your health; if you aren't sleeping or you're sleeping every chance you can, if you are finding it more difficult to "put on a happy face" you might have crossed the line.
