1. What are the men hunting in the story that is so dangerous?
   A. Endangered species from South Africa
   B. Dinosaurs
   C. Other people

2. As the story begins, there had just been a presidential election. Who had won the election?
   A. John F. Kennedy Smith the 5th, the great nephew of John F. Kennedy
   B. Keith
   C. No one - the election had ended in a tie.

3. What is the one important thing they are told they must do during the hunt?
   A. Don't talk or they will scare off the animals.
   B. Don't shoot until they are told
   C. Stay on the path

4. The government doesn't like the company hunting in the past. What is it afraid will happen?
   A. It's afraid that they will change something about the past that will alter the future.
   B. It's afraid that they will bring back a dangerous disease
   C. It's afraid that they will try to bring back a live animal.

5. How do they know which animals to shoot?
   A. They have a special gun that outlines them in red
   B. They're marked with red paint
   C. They don't - they can shoot any animal they like.
6. When they finally find their animal, Eckels does something that makes the others angry at him and threaten to leave him behind in the past. What does he do?

A. He goes off the path
B. He shoots at the animal before he is told
C. He screams, and the animal runs off.

7. What does Travis make Eckels do in order to go back with them?

A. Take off his shoes
B. Get off the path
C. Get the bullets from the dinosaurs head.

8. At the end of the story, when they return home, something is different and wrong. What has happened?

A. A disease has killed half the country
B. Deutscher has won the presidency
C. The dinosaurs are still alive

9. When they get back home, Eckels looks at his feet and makes a horrifying discovery. What does Eckels find dead on the bottom of his shoe?

A. A butterfly
B. A grasshopper
C. A dragonfly

10. Why is the fact that Eckels stepped on a butterfly so significant?

A. It shows how afraid he was of the T-Rex.
B. The other men didn’t think it was nice to kill a beautiful butterfly.
C. Stepping on one butterfly affected the food chains down through history.