THEATER 3 STUDENTS GO GREEK

Mrs. Valin's Theatre 3 students studied the roots of western theatre with a unit on the Ancient Greeks. They studied the development of the actor, the playwrights, the festivals, and technical theatre elements such as costumes and scenery. They explored the nature of the Greek chorus and then produced a segment of Antigone for presentation. Students memorized, blocked and rehearsed their parts, were given costumes and masks to work with and finally performed before an audience in the school's amphitheater. Prior to the August 29 performance, students re-enacted the ancient rite of providing "offerings" to the "alters" of the "city", by giving fruits and nuts to the officials of CHS.
