Message from your counselors:

As we enter into our third week of this new format, the counselors at Perry wanted to give you a quick reminder of just who we are and how to reach us. We have heard from your teachers that things are moving along with online assignments. There will undoubtedly be some hiccups along the way. Stay focused and be patient with yourself and your teachers. We want to encourage everyone to keep up with your learning to the best of your ability. Everything you do will help prepare you best for the next step in your educational journey. That may be next year in high school or as you prepare to enter college. We are here to support you and will do our best to answer any questions you have along the way.
